

MediText – General Info

Meditext is a small but highly specialized team of medical professionals, linguists and experienced project managers who provide high-quality translation services in a wide spectrum of medical fields. With over 15 years of experience on the market, we constantly develop our skills, knowledge and upgrade our equipment to provide our clients with the best possible outcome.

We cooperate with well-established international companies and agencies but we are also willing to explore new opportunities and start new business relations with potential clients.

Our project managers pay extra attention to confidentiality of materials and documents entrusted to us.

We simply speak medicine – it's never foreign to us!
