Freelance translator since 2001, my university training initially led me to specialise in technical translations, particularly in the sectors of industrial engineering, mechanics and IT, areas where I continue to offer my expertise. I also offer revision and quality control services, in accordance with specific legislation or company guidelines. In 2017, I began offering machine translation post-editing (in selected fields only) and editing services.

In 2018 I began offering subtitling services, initially interlinguistic subtitling of audio-visual media, both fiction and non-fiction. I have recently become interested in the issue of accessibility, and have supervised and completed various cinema projects involving audio description for the visually impaired and subtitling for the deaf and hard-of-hearing. Since 2022, I have curated the subtitles for the NNF (Nonantola Film Festival).

I am reliable and extremely detail-oriented, offering a flexible approach tailored to the needs of each individual client. My longstanding relationship with trusted colleagues also allows me to offer team translation and revision services.
