COMMUNICATE WITH THE WHOLE WORLD

Communication between people starts with language. Getting our message across, reaching out to others and making ourselves understood – all these things are important if we are to grow not only as people, but also as companies. With us as your language service provider, there are no language barriers. Everything is possible with Translator Scandinavia.

TRANSLATOR SCANDINAVIA AB

Your message should not change just because it has to be read in a different language. Translator Scandinavia offers language services of the highest quality to the business community and public authorities in Sweden, Europe and the rest of the world. We translate in nearly all language combinations.

- Quality – Our entire company takes an uncompromising approach to quality that produces results.
- Customer focus – Work methods and services are tailored to suit your needs and the nature of each individual text.
- Broad skills base – With us as a partner, you gain access to a skilled, cohesive team of project managers, translators, specialists and copy editors who work together to ensure that your documentation works wherever in the world it needs to.
- Use of technology – Working with the latest, most efficient tools for computer-assisted translation and terminology management allows us to guarantee consistent terminology, offer shorter deadlines and reduce your costs.

EXPERIENCE AND BREADTH

Our customers represent a broad spectrum of business areas. This is reflected in the texts we translate, which can be anything from advanced technical documentation to prospectuses, toy catalogues and course material.

We are used to managing large projects, more often than not on tight deadlines. We frequently translate the same text into several different languages, adapt texts to local conditions and deliver ready-to-print originals or entire websites.

Our customers include AstraZeneca, General Electric, Getinge, Hewlett-Packard, JPMorgan Fleming Asset Management, Blanchard International, Learning Tree, Sida, Stockholm County Council and TietoEnator.

We are also one of the European Commission's biggest suppliers of freelance translations into Swedish.

QUALITY FIRST

The means to achieving quality includes advanced skills, efficient workflows and sensitivity to customers' needs.

As our customer, you gain access to a substantial network of skilled translators and editors who work only in their first language and have many years of experience in one or more specialist areas.

Our project managers are used to navigating in this network and make it their business to always find the most suitable translator and editor for each text.

Close collaboration with our customers is also a key to quality. It is often the case that you are the most valuable expert when it comes to your text – and we make sure we meet your requirements.

LATEST TECHNOLOGY

Advanced technology can never replace a skilled translator. But, if used efficiently, it can help to improve quality and save time and money.

You can always gain access to your previous translations when you work with us. There is much to be gained from letting us handle all your translation projects – using smart "recycling" techniques, we avoid translating the same material twice and guarantee that your terminology and style remain consistent.

We make sure we are always up to date with the latest CAT (Computer Assisted Translation) tools, memory management, word and term banks and layout software.

Together with our partner in Denmark, we have also developed Word Bank, an internet-based tool for professional terminology management. Visit www.wmg.net for more information.
