

Bernhard Sulzer BIO

Translator, German Instructor
Sylvania, OH 43560
bsulzer@agreattranslation.com
+1 419-320-7745

Education

Master of Arts in Mass Communication

Bowling Green State University - Bowling Green, Ohio

Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and Mass Communication Studies

Salzburg University - Salzburg, Austria

Work Experience

Translator

Self-Employed - Toledo, OH / August 1998 to Present

Self-employed (98-current): carry out high-quality translations from German to English and from English to German in various fields (marketing, law, finance, engineering, books – fiction and non-fiction, arts & science etc.); excellent client feedback and samples: <http://agreattranslation.com> Collaborate with my wife Susannah Sulzer (native English speaker and translator)

Instructor

University of Toledo - Toledo, OH / August 1998 to May 2019

Instructor of German and German Culture (98-08; 09-19): University of Toledo, Bowling Green State University, Monroe County Community College, Owens Community College, DANA Corporation, Maumee, Ohio (04- 06), and Midway Products, Monroe, Michigan (11-12): successfully taught German as well as German culture courses in an academic and private class environment; developed excellent rapport with students, superiors and colleagues.

Publications

Translated the following books from German to English:

Erich von Däniken:	Evolution Is Wrong (2022)
Tamara Schenk:	Soul Cats (2022)
Erich von Däniken:	Confessions of an Egyptologist (2021)
Erich von Däniken:	Eyewitness to the Gods (2019)
Dirk Trost:	A Murderous Storm (2015)

Translated from English to German:

Charlotte & Aaron Elkins:	Eine mörderische Kreuzfahrt (2015)
---------------------------	------------------------------------

Personal Bio

I grew up in Austria where I attended the local high school in Admont, my home town. My parents owned and very successfully managed the hotel “Die Traube” (see links):

<http://www.hotel-die-traube.at/index.php?id=125>

<https://www.gymnasium-admont.at/>

I moved to the United States in 1993. I am married and have one daughter. In my spare time, I enjoy listening to music, running and skiing.

For any additional questions, please contact me anytime by phone, text, or email.