Profile

I am an all-round professional with a broad experience in the commercial, financial services and IT branch. After my study Business Economics at the Paris IX Dauphine University, I've build a working career of more than 20 years, of which the last 12 years in the IT branch. Besides profound knowledge of IT, I have strong communication skills and a client-focused and commercial attitude. I have Dutch roots and besides fluent French I speak the Dutch language. I would like to use my language skills, combined with my experience in a commercial and international position.

Working experience

2006-01 up till now

IT analyst - Logica

As a software developer and analyst I've worked for several large clients in the manufactory and financial services industry. Maintenance and development of mainframes and ERP systems, such as SAP. Testing and development of technical requirements. Recent engagements at SANOFI-AVENTIS, AREVA, Caisse d'Epargne and Volvo.

2002-12 - 2006-01

IT analyst - Sylis

As a software developer and analyst I've worked for several clients in the financial industry and retail market. Development and testing within large IT projects, for example the integration of systems after a merger within Groupama and the development of a logistic chain within Casino.

1998-01 - 2002-12

Software programmer - Transiciel

As mainframe programmer I've worked for several clients in the manufactory and financial services industry. Software development within IT projects, for example the design and implementation of an interface between two factories of Renault and the development of web-based software for Credit Agricole.

- 1987 - 1998 After finishing my study at the Paris IX Dauphine University, I've worked for a period of 10 years in several positions within different companies:
- Credit Analyst for Societe Française d'Assurance Credit
 - Coordinator and Financial Accountant for Europ' Assistance
 - Bank employee for Banque Regionale d'Escompte et de Credit
