About me:

I am a Brazilian translator who loves what I do. For me, a job translator represents an opportunity of connecting people who live in different parts of the world through my skills breaking linguistic barriers to take knowledge for all of them.

● WORK EXPERIENCE

My job as a translator in CabineITC Company was a great job opportunity for me. In addition to that I already had the chance to act as an event interpreter whose experience was important to improve my skills.

"Assim é o Amor" is a book translation of the original "It's All About Love" from the American author Marsha Casper Cook. I had the happiness of translating this wonderful work that gave me a sense of fullness.
