ADDITIONAL SKILLS

Making University presentations and projects, has allowed me to develop good communication skills and to deeply understand information and documents. Teamwork at the University Ca' Foscari has managed to improve my analytical skills and my practical knowledge in the fields of marketing and tourism. Thanks to two years in Spain (I took part in the Erasmus programme at the University of Zaragoza) I speak an excellent Spanish and English. I interact without any problems with different kinds of people and I work very well in teams. I don't mind at all living abroad and I'm available to move to other countries.
