

Teaching Experience	 Amiri, Zeinab. Translator-led and non-translator-led agency in popularizing contemporary North American literature in contemporary Iran: A case study on Mozhdeh Daghighi's literary oeuvre. In Staging the Literary Translator: Roles, Identities, Personalities. May 17-19, 2018, Vienna, Austria. Amiri, Zeinab. Translation and globalized discourse: A study on anglicisms in Persian commercial websites. In National Conference on Translation and Media, Ferdowsi University of Mashhad, May 4, 2019. Farahzad, Farzaneh and Amiri, Zeinab. Translation and the formation of the New Woman: A case study of Iranian women's periodicals from 1910-1953. In The First International Conference on English Language Studies (ICELS), University of Isfahan, December, 11-13, 2019, Iran, Isfahan. 2017-2019, Allameh Tabataba'i University, Tehran, Iran. 2019- present, Islamic Azad University, South Branch, Tehran, Iran. Note: In both, translation specialized courses (e.g., Contrastive Analysis and Error
Translation Skills	Analysis, Translation Principles and Strategies, Reading Journalistic Texts, etc. were and are being taught.) More than 10 years of experience in English-Persian translation in fields of:
Translation Skills	psychological and sociological sciences, History, Women studies, Educational Sciences More than 5 years of experience in Persian-English translation of books and academic journal articles
Published Translations into Persian (Books)	 Tips for Teaching Listening, Jack. C. Richards & Anne Burns, 2015 Tips for Teaching Culture. Ane C. Wintergest, 2019 Why Love Hurts a Sociological Perspective, Eva Illouz, forthcoming