

GLENDAGARRIDO

Freelance Translator

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

I have studied English for five years at the University of Tarapacá in Chile where I have perfected myself in the translation area. I have had the opportunity to translate different textual genres, however, I am interested in translating scientific texts, such as geology, neuroscience, biology, etc., as well as musical production texts, such as mastering, mixing, musical theory, sound design, acoustic treatment, equalization etc. Finally, I am interested in translating any Christian religious texts, since I am proficient in this matter.

Despite this, I do not rule out the possibility of translating other types of texts since for me it is very important as a professional to be able to translate other types of issues.
