PROFILE

I am an official and permanent member of Indonesian Directory of Translators and Interpreter (HPI-01-17-2319). My translating experiences have started since my undergraduate degree (2010) and have continued until the present. When translating, I always localize as many cultures and languages may not have the same meaning when the translation is translated literally. Social, economic and political context needs to be taken into account to ensure the best translation is achieved.
