

KRISTÍN RUT KRISTJÁNSDÓTTIR

SKILLS

I have led and assisted English and Icelandic research projects, both academic and applied. I have also proofread and provided feedback on numerous papers and articles in English, Icelandic and Swedish. Throughout my academic education and career, I have written and presented in English, often relying on material in Swedish and Icelandic. Four years experience with translation for agencies all over the world and direct clients in Britain, Sweden and Iceland.

EXPERIENCE

Owner and consultant |

Tourism & Sustainability Research | Since 2012

Starting my own company as a consultant was an outgrowth of assisting with various applied projects. Since 2019 I have focused more on proofreading and translation services.

Research assistant |

University of Iceland | 2011 – 2017

Long experience in leading both local and international research and conducting various research methods. This requires rich skills in interpreting, transcribing and translating. I am also the author of articles in peer-reviewed journals and numerous reports, shorter articles, posters and conference papers.

EDUCATION

MSc Environmental studies and sustainability science | 2012 | Lund University

An interdisciplinary and international program that provided a large international network, great exposure to the global debate on sustainability, as well as practical tools and skills.

BSc Tourism studies | 2007 | University of Iceland

Received a scholarship from the Student Innovation Fund for my thesis.

OBJECTIVE

I am especially enthusiastic about the correct use of concepts and providing a translation that both accurately and authentically reflects the interpreted culture. Being a native Icelandic I take much pride in translation of and in my language. Meanwhile, I have lived and worked in Sweden for 15 years and am fluent in Swedish.
