Comments

In Korean community, there is a word 'transcendent translation'. It is the best title for a translated word that has received rave reviews. 'Frostmourne' is the sword that is famous in the RPG game World of War craft. It is translated in Korean as 'Seori-han', and it is called the best EN > KO translation in game. One day, I want to be a transcendent translator who created transcendent translation like Seori-han.
