Introduction

My name is Essam Bedir. I am a highly enthusiastic, motivated, knowledgeable Professional Ghanaian language service provider. I have been providing professional native Ghanaian language services to well-known clients and organizations worldwide.

I translate and localize a huge range of very diverse materials in various fields and domains, everything from business cards to books, conversations to contracts, and software to signage.

Due to the fact that Ghana is one of the most linguistically diverse countries in the world. I have built up my own team of native professional linguists who cover a great number of Ghanaian languages and dialects. With my freelance team, I can help with a great number of languages and can meet any deadline without compromising quality.

Together with my professional native team, I have an impressive history of completing successful projects of all sizes for agencies and consultancies, governments and associations, nonprofits and corporations, within virtually every business sector.

I am committed to providing my clients and end-users first class language services for the fairest prices available in local and global markets.

For a greater illustration of my qualifications, experience and services, please review my resume. I am eager to hear from you and thoroughly appreciate your consideration.
