EDUCATION & WORK EXPERIENCE

2011/2016 • High School: Liceo Scientifico Vincenzo Cardarelli Tarquinia (Italy) - Grade: 82/100;

2020 • Bachelor's degree: Political and International Sciences University of Pisa (Italy) - Grade: 102/110 [2.1 class].

Dissertation: Entrepreneurial State and Private Firms in the Economics of Innovation.

As a Political Sciences student, I tried to investigate the dynamics behind successful business innovation policies. My final dissertation explored how public institutions could adopt an entrepreneurial mindset, select virtuous companies, and help them grow in the long term.

2022 • Master's degree: MSc Management, University of Leeds, Triple Accredited Business School (AACSB, AMBA, EQUIS). Grade: Distinction.

Dissertation: How HR Managers' activities evolved during the Pandemic: The Case of Technip Energies Italy - Mark: 77

For my final dissertation I interviewed both HR and line managers of a multinational gas company with a peculiar internal configuration. The more I delved deeper into the topic, the more I was surprised by the hidden functionalities and future evolution pathways of an often-neglected department.

Course Highlights:

- Entrepreneurship and Enterprise Creation - Mark: 72

During this module we focused on building our own entrepreneurial project from scratch. I came up with a sustainable surfboards company, trying to put my passion at service of a business idea. Thanks to this challenge, I understood that our identity has a strong influence on the quality of our work.

- Operation and Supply Chain Management - Mark: 80

My project for this module consisted in adapting the logistic strategy of a British clothing company to the Covid-19 crisis. With this experience I discovered how the logistic department often embodies the real creative heart of an enterprise.
