Education

Educational science, mathematics

University of Turku • Turku, Varsinais-Suomi
01/2023

I am currently studying for a degree (bachelor's and master's) and, alongside that, I have completed a year of substitute teaching at an elementary school, created various task packages, and worked on tasks related to school curriculum development. In mathematics, I have studied topics such as analysis, linear algebra, and coding. I also study microbiology as a minor, which has given me a good understanding of medical and biochemical vocabulary in English as well.
