Years of Experience

I have been interpreting and translating on and off since 2004.

About Me

I am an interpreter and translator, currently not holding any certificates, from Central Maine, in the USA. I grew up educated in public school systems with bilingual curricula and I have been speaking and writing in French since the age of 8 years old.

I have also learned to speak Greek due to experiences in and out of Greece in the past ten years, as well as relationships with friends as early as 8 years old with Greek-Americans. As a result, I have accumulated native fluency in both French and Greek.

I also have a rudimentary fluency in German, Romanian, Russian, and Italian, but I do not interpret or translate in any of these languages. Having a working knowledge of the previously-mentioned languages allows me to be most effective in French and Greek, thereby increasing the quality of my translations. I prefer to translate into English as it is easier and more expeditious for me, especially with my busy schedule. Please do not let that stop you from sending me quote requests for any of the mentioned languages or pairs, as I am well-connected with native speakers of all languages and I may be able to offer a referral or recommendation.
