

July 08

Hans-Henrik Pedersen

Extensive experience with translations in a number of languages as well as experience in all aspects of the publishing industry. Freelance translator with the language combinations: Danish-English/English-Danish.

Graduated Danish State Gymnasium in June 1971 Mathematical line; included Danish, English, German and French. 1971 at University of Copenhagen, Denmark.

1972- 1983

Course Supervisor and trainer of employees in Copenhagen.

1985-1990

Quality Control of book printing and production including B+W and color press checks at the printers as well as on-the-job-training of employees at a major publisher in California.

1993-2001

In-house translator at a movie and recording production company in California; English source texts into Danish. Translated a number of books and recorded lectures of philosophical and humanitarian nature into Danish. Managed a group of Danish, Norwegian, Swedish and Dutch translators; residing both in the US and in their home countries. Did quality control and managed and coordinated their translations work as well as did my own translations.

2002-2003

Recording engineer and recording director of translated lectures in Danish, Norwegian, Swedish and Dutch.

2007-PT

Established as freelance translator specializing in Danish-English/English-Danish.